A Makeup Palette for Every Hair Color

Blonde Hair

Blondes look best in soft, pastel makeup shades that complement the lightness of their hair color. Dark makeup shades are an overly harsh contrast and will make you look too hard.

Eyes - Pick bone, ash, or petal eye shadows and dark brown liner.

Cheeks - Try pale pink or nectar shades of blush.

Lips - Go for the light to medium tones of pink, peach, or rose

Light Brown Hair

Light brown hair has a tendency to give skin a lackluster look, so brighten things up with medium neutrals and sheer brights (natural-looking high-lights work great too).

Eyes – Pick bone and taupe eye shadows and mahogany liner.

Cheeks – Choose pale pink, sand pink, and tawny shades of blush.

Lips – Try pinky browns, soft shades of rose, and sheer berries.

Medium Brown Hair

Medium brown hair tends to give the skin a monochromatic look, so create subtle contrasts with medium neutrals and brights.

Eyes – Try bone, beige, and gray eye shadows and medium brown liner.

Cheeks – Go for pale pink, flushed pink, and pinky brown shades of blush.

Lips – Choose pinky browns, rosy pink, and sheer reds.

Dark Brown to Black Hair

Dark brown and black hair can make skin look pale, so you need to add color to your face to counteract this.

Eyes – Pick bone, light brown, or mocha eye shadows and dark brown to charcoal liner.

Cheeks – Try rosy pink, brownish pink, or rosy brown shades of blush.

Lips – Go for pinky browns, plum browns, or blue reds.

Red Hair

The burnt-amber tone of your hair will warm up your complexion, so your makeup should complement this.

Eyes – Pick bone, taupe, or mossy green eye shadows and red brown to dark brown liner.

Cheeks – Try medium brown, rosy brown, or apricot shades of blush.

Lips – Go for peach, light brown, brownish pink, or red.

White/Gray Hair

Gray hair can drain color from your face, leaving you looking washed out. Brighter makeup colors in cool tones will give your face a lift.

Eyes – For blue eyes, pick white and gray eye shadows and slate or navy liner. For brown or green eyes, stick to more neutral shades of eye shadow.

Cheeks – Try soft pink or coral shades of blush.

Lips – Go for nude, rose, pink, coral, or red-any colors that give the face a lift.
